

New MCA Website

Contributed by John Lange
Tuesday, 17 July 2007
Last Updated Tuesday, 17 July 2007

As you can see, the MCA has a new website! The old website was launched in 2002 and the software was starting to show its age. Among other problems the company that hosts the web site (Epic Information Solutions, who is also my employer) wanted to move the site to a new server but the old site would not run properly. Turns out it was easier to migrate the entire site to new software than to try and make the old one work. There are still quite a few things left to be done but I hope you like the new look!